

Operations Management

Until now the concept of introducing a cost effective layer of real-time operational management across a retail estate has been nigh on impossible. But with LiveStore at the very heart of your in-store systems you open up a whole new paradigm of monitoring and reporting.

The light touch LiveStore agent and data gateway are capable of handling data feeds from almost any retail peripheral technology or platform - from RFID, barcode, access control and building/environmental monitoring systems to stock control and 'back-door' deliveries.

Accessing real-time information and then monitoring feeds alongside live performance information provides new levels of operational insight. For example, LiveStore integrates with the new generation of intelligent cash handling systems to provide an up-to-the-minute understanding of the in-store cash position. Or combining LiveStore with video analytics technology gives a higher level operational understanding at an EPOS conveyor.

Operational efficiency is also achieved through the same functionality afforded by the LiveStore loss prevention solution, using the real-time monitoring capabilities with CCTV images as a powerful staff training tool. Remotely accessible via its dashboard reporting module, LiveStore provides video lead-in and lead-out sequences to help understand all the actions of an employee around an individual sale and to help promote positive behaviour in line with company policy.
